ONLY MEMORIES

BENNY & J.D.

OF HOW WE USED TO BE.

NORMA.

WALMARTS, WALGREENS, WENDY'S.

(As the song ends, JESUS's face brightens. He sees something that no one else does.)

START

JESUS. Hola perrita! Lolita, te dejaron sola todo el dia en la casa?

(Everyone stares at JESUS, transfixed.)

Viniste a darme animo, perrita?

HEATHER. What's he saying?

NORMA. (concerned) He's talking to his dog...

JESUS. Te voy a dejar pasear en esta trocka, con tu narizita en el aire, y tus orejas volando.

HEATHER. (with dread) I don't see a dog.

JESUS. Donde encontraste eso?

(JESUS removes his hand; everyone gasps. BENNY shakes his head with a world-weary cynicism.)

(JESUS leans down and takes something from the illusory dog.)

STOP

De quien es esa pelota de tenis?

BENNY. Happened back in ninety-four; Henry Snyder started talking to his dead wife.

NORMA. What'd she tell him?

BENNY. To let go.
